

Employment Growth Projections

By Major Occupational Group

Organizations' own two-year and five-year projections of growth in critical occupations in the electricity sector. Non-support occupations and selected support occupations considered critical to many organizations' operations are grouped into major occupational categories.