

Supply Demand Modelling

Summary

Highlights the range of the potential gap between the supply of new qualified labour (e.g., recent graduates, immigrants) and the demand for new workers to meet expansion and replacement needs in the electricity sector, for high growth and low growth scenarios.